

Release Date: 17th October 2006

Corporate Jedi Bring The Force To The World Of Learning

The World of Learning Conference and Exhibition 2006 will see the launch of Corporate Jedi.

Although the concept of Corporate Jedi may be new, The Jedi have more than 25 years combined experience in Learning and Development plus experience of many corporate sectors including Finance, Hospitality, Retail and Manufacturing.

Formed by remarkable individuals, each with their own successful business, Corporate Jedi brings together a wealth of experience, ability, knowledge and skills.

The Force which connects the Jedi is their passion and belief that everybody has the right and the potential to achieve the success they desire and deserve.

Building on the basic principle of working with people to understand their needs, and provide solutions that are individual to each business, the results that are achieved speak for themselves. If they don't the Jedi will refund your fees.

This is the way of the JEDI.

“A truly successful company is formed when successful people work together towards a common goal. Each individual within your company has the force to make a difference to your success, only when you develop and grow that force and allow the individual to be successful in their own right, can your company achieve true success.”-Master Jedi

The best way to fully understand the passion, belief and skill that the Jedi can bring to your business is to spend time with them.

If these are the Jedi you are looking for then visit them at The World of Learning Conference and Exhibition, NEC Birmingham 14th & 15th November 2006.

Luke found Yoda, you can find your Jedi Master at Corporate Jedi.

For further information on what the Jedi can do for you or for press enquiries contact Helen Leng on 0870 067 3174 or helen@corporatejedi.co.uk